Main Features

- The total number of people counted by the census in the Australian Capital Territory (ACT), including Jervis Bay Territory, increased by 12.5 per cent from 1981 to 1986, and by 12.3 per cent from 1986 to 1991.
- The median age of males in the ACT was 28 years, while the median age of females was 29 years. The median age of persons was 29 years.
- Of people counted by the census in the ACT, 267,492 (95.5%) were enumerated at their place of usual residence on census night, 6 August 1991. Also, 121,761 people (49.5%) had the same address of usual residence as 5 years ago.
- Other than Australia (74.6%) and the UK (6.8%), the countries of birth with the highest proportion were New Zealand (1.3%), Yugoslavia (1.4%), Germany and Italy (both 1.0%).
- Of the 22,083 males with degree or higher level qualification, 8,506 (38.5%) had studied in the field of society and culture. Of the 16,317 females with a qualification at this level, 7,096 (43.5%) had also studied in this field.
- There were 38.7 per cent of employed females who worked 34 or less hours (part-time) in the week before the census, while 14.7 per cent of employed males worked these hours. Most employed males (81.1%) worked 35 to 49 or more hours in the week before the census, while 57 per cent of employed females worked the same hours.
- Of the employed people in the ACT who went to work on the day of the census, 59.1 per cent drove all the way there in a car. Another 9.2 per cent also went all the way to work as passengers in cars.
- There were 68,667 one family households enumerated in the ACT; 60,923 of these families lived in (separate) houses, while 111 families lived in caravans etc. in caravan parks. There were also 15,710 lone person households; 8,073 of these people lived in (separate) houses.
- The median annual individual income in the ACT was $20,741. The median annual family income was $49,073; and the median annual household income was $44,170.
- The median housing loan repayment (monthly) was $638. The median rent (weekly) was $142.

About this publication

This publication contains final data from the 1991 Census of Population and Housing. It presents census counts of characteristics of people and dwellings cross-classified by social and demographic characteristics for the Australian Capital Territory, and for the Statistical Division of Canberra.

The tables are grouped into broad categories, such as age, birthplace, and labour force. However, all characteristics are listed separately in the index, along with the corresponding numbers of tables in which they appear.

The tables provided are on a place of enumeration basis, which counts people where they were located on census night, 6 August 1991, which may not be where they usually live.

Census Characteristics is produced for each State, Territory, and Australia.

Scope and coverage

The 1991 Census of Population and Housing was held on 6 August 1991. The purpose of the census was to count every person who spent census night in Australia. This included people in private dwellings, occupied non-private dwellings, camping out, on vessels in or between Australian ports and on board overnight transport.

People were counted where they were located on census night, which may not have been where they usually live.

Visitors to Australia were counted regardless of how long ago they arrived, or how long they planned to stay. Australian residents out of the country on census night were excluded.

All private dwellings were counted, whether occupied or unoccupied. Occupied non-private dwellings, such as hospitals, gaols, etc. were also counted.

Diplomatic personnel and their families were excluded from the census, as were diplomatic residences.

Data limitations

The census is subject to a number of errors, although the effect of such errors on overall census results is generally insignificant.

Underenumeration

Although the census aims to count each person, there are some people who are missed. Underenumeration in the 1991 Census is estimated to be 1.9% for Australia. The data in this publication are not adjusted for underenumeration.

Respondent error

Because processing procedures cannot detect all errors made by people in completing the census form, some remain in final data.

Processing error

Some processing errors may occur, although stringent quality control measures have been used to minimise them.

Random adjustment

Random error is added to census data to ensure confidentiality. This means that small cells are randomly adjusted to avoid releasing information about particular individuals, families, households or dwellings. The effect is statistically insignificant and does not impair the usefulness of the tables.

Further information on data quality will be provided in Census Update and in the 1991 Census data quality papers.

1986 Census data

Similar data from the 1986 Census were published in the series Census 86 - Cross-classified Characteristics of Persons and Dwellings, State/Australia (2490-8.0).

Terms and concepts

General descriptions of terms and concepts used in this publication are provided below. Tables are also footnoted where applicable for additional clarity. Detailed definitions are provided in the 1991 Census Dictionary (2901.0).

Dwellings

The census collector recorded each dwelling as either private or non-private.

A private dwelling is normally a house, flat, part of a house, or even a room; but can also be a house attached to, or rooms above, shops or offices; an occupied caravan in a caravan park or on a residential allotment or a boat in a marina; a houseboat; or a tent if it is standing on its own block of land. Private dwellings are either occupied or unoccupied.

Non-private dwellings include occupied motels, gaols, welfare institutions, hospitals, retirement villages, boarding schools etc. Only occupied non-private dwellings were included in the census.

Employed

Employed full-time means that the person worked 35 hours or more in the main job held in the week before the census.

Employed part-time means that the person worked less than 35 hours in the main job held in the week before the census.

Family

A census family is a group of related individuals in a household where at least one person is aged 15 years or more. Family tables do not include visitors to the dwelling. Families in non-private dwellings or holidaying away from home on census night are not coded as a family unit.

Family income

This is the sum of the personal incomes of each resident family member aged 15 years or more. If any of these family members have income not stated, or a spouse or offspring is temporarily absent, family income is classified as partial income stated in this publication.

Parental income is similar to family income except that only the income of the parent(s) is included. Parental income compares most closely with the family income variable of the 1986 Census.

Household

A census household is either a person living alone or people who usually reside and eat together. A household resides in a private dwelling. The household type is based on information about relationships about residents present and people temporarily absent. The relationships of visitors to one another or to any resident are not considered. A household can contain up to three families.

Household income

This is the sum of the personal incomes of each resident household member aged 15 years or more. If any of these residents has an income not stated, or a spouse, offspring or co-tenant is temporarily absent, household income is classified as partial income stated in this publication.

Offspring

Dependent offspring are 0 to 14 years of age, or are full-time students aged 15 to 24 years. Unrelated children are classified as dependent children if they usually reside with the family. Other offspring are 15 to 24 years of age and not full-time students, or 25 years of age or more.

In the 1986 Census, 21 to 24 year old full-time students were classified as related adults. As a result, sole parents with adult children were classified as families of related adults; in the 1991 Census, these cases are classified as one parent families.

Temporarily absent

Only spouses, offspring and co-tenants who were listed as temporarily absent on census night are considered when determining household type.

Geographic areas

The tables in this publication are at State/Territory level and capital city Statistical Division (SD) level.

Statistical divisions (SDs) are designed to be relatively homogeneous regions characterised by identifiable social and economic links between the inhabitants and the economic units in the region, under the unifying influence of one or more major towns or cities. They do not cross State or Territory boundaries.

Capital city SDs are predominantly urban in character and the boundaries are delineated to contain the anticipated urban development of the capital cities (and associated urban centres) for a period of at least twenty years.

The geographic areas used by the census are defined by the Australian Standard Geographical Classification (ASGC). Definitions and lists of codes and names of the geographic areas are contained in the publications 1991 Census Geographic Areas (2905.0), 1991 Census Urban Centres/Localities Code List (2909.0) and Australian Standard Geographical Classification (ASGC) (1216.0), edition 2.1.

Treatment of Jervis Bay Territory

All standard national products produced from the 1991 Census include data for Jervis Bay Territory with the Australian Capital Territory (ACT). Other publications produced by the Office of the Statistician, ACT, will exclude data for Jervis Bay Territory. Customised data can be produced either way, as specified.

ABS population estimates

Official ABS population estimates (estimated resident population) are also separately available from the ABS. The estimates are based on census counts that have been adjusted to:

- include people who were in Australia on census night but were missed in the census;
- include Australian residents who were temporarily overseas on census night (these people were not within the scope of the census); and
- exclude overseas visitors counted in the census who are not usual residents of Australia.

ABS population estimates *continued

The adjusted census count is then updated quarterly using demographic statistics. These are statistics on births, deaths, and overseas and internal migration.

ABS population estimates are published in Australian Demographic Statistics (3101.0), produced quarterly, and in Estimated Resident Population by Sex and Age: States and Territories of Australia (3201.0), produced annually.

Where to find out more about the 1991 Census

A number of 1991 Census reference products are available from the ABS. They include the 1991 Census Dictionary (2901.0), 1991 Census Directory of Classifications (2904.0), 1991 Census Geographic Areas (2905.0) and 1991 Census - Urban Centres/Localities Code List (2909.0). For detailed explanations of data, geography, census concepts, terminology, variables and classifications, please refer to these publications.

Final data from the 1991 Census is available in a range of publications including thematic reports and Social Atlases. Products are also available on microfiche, floppy disk, magnetic tape or cartridge. Some 1991 Census products are available on CD-ROM, including CMA91, CDA91 and CTAB91.

The publications Census Counts for Small Areas (2730.1-8) and Census Characteristics (2710.0-8) are produced for each State and Territory. A number of publications focusing on individual States/Territories will be produced by the State offices of the ABS.

1991 Census - A Guide to Products and Services (2910.0) provides up-to-date details on census products and services, including prices and release dates.

Census Update, a free quarterly newsletter, keeps you informed of developments in all census products and services. It highlights recent and forthcoming releases, and contains regular features on census data usage. Contact Census Marketing on (06) 252 7879 for details.

Collection District Maps (2920.0) in hardcopy and on microfiche, the Collection District Comparability List (2919.0) and the Collection District Conversion List (2918.0) are also available. 1991 Census digitised statistical boundaries are available for use with mapping software.

For more information on the wide range of data available from the 1991 Census, including data customised to suit specific requirements, contact the ABS office in your State or Territory.
